Carbon County
COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

2018

A Message from CCCF President Amber Breiner:

GIVE WHERE YOU LIVE

Carbon County is a place unlike any I've ever encountered. It starts with the name; anthracite coal was discovered in Summit Hill in 1791, when our region was still a part of Northampton County. In the decades that followed, our humble, rural communities played a vital role in the Industrial Revolution as the home to rail and steel magnates, mines and smelters, and relatively isolated enclaves full of hardworking, proud people. Across that spectrum, these individuals shared a fierce devotion to their communities, instilling that same love of place in the generations that followed.

Unlike other regions, where one community bleeds into the next, Carbon County locales are distinct. Our towns are defined by the mountainous terrain and strong fabric of natural resources that surround and unite us.

I'm not a native; I was born in the Lehigh Valley, which may as well be another country for all the differences we share. My husband is from Lehighton, however, and together we are raising our three children here. No matter where they may wander in this world, Carbon County will always be the place they call "home."

But will they choose to live here? I am excited to grow this Foundation, so we can ensure that our community continues to be a great place to live. I want to help make sure it grows stronger and thrives. Our board of directors shares that vision and formally stated so at the end of 2017 in our first strategic plan when we drafted our vision statement—We envision a vibrant and sustainable community empowered through charitable giving.

That vision lies at the heart of what it means to grow from donor to a philanthropist. You don't need to be a Rockefeller to make a difference in a community as small as ours. All it takes is a willingness to work with CCCF to build strategic funds—take care of retirement or estate planning concerns, minimize tax liability, honor the memory of a loved one or support the cause or organization that matters most to you—to create a legacy gift for our community.

If you share this vision and would like to help, to give back to our region today and in lasting ways that will help meet our community needs over time, please get in touch. Let's start the conversation about your goals and what options for philanthropic giving might be the best fit for you.
